ABOUT US

The University of Massachusetts Global (UMass Global) is an accredited, public, nonprofit university designed for working adults seeking to improve their careers and lives through education. With many programs offered online, self-paced, as well as on campus at our more than 25 locations, UMass Global (formerly Brandman) is here to help you reach your educational goals.

Our strong heritage of academic excellence combined with our dedication to the practical application of knowledge allow us to deliver innovative programming that is current, relevant, and aligned with the goals of our students and partner organizations. With certificates, industry certifications, and academic and professional development credits available, our programs provide the skills needed to achieve success.

Why UMass Global?

Our programs:

- Use cutting-edge technology
- Are taught by scholar practitioners and experts in their fields
- Incorporate the latest teaching strategies to produce the leaders of tomorrow
- Are accredited by WASC Senior College and University Commission (WSCUC)

Brandman* has been an invaluable partner in the development of our future law enforcement leaders. We are proud to have them as a training partner.

BOB PETERSON
Undersheriff Orange County
Sheriff's Department

Brandman* has been a key contributor to fulfilling our strategic goal of developing and educating better leaders in the Court. As a result of the training and services provided by Brandman University and as evidenced by in depth evaluation reports, personnel are decidedly more productive, engaged, and knowledgeable in performing their duties.

KAREN M.
Former Chief Human Resources Officer
Orange County Superior Court

Employer Driven

Our dynamic programs are built by the joint effort of UMass Global faculty and industry experts through a series of collaborative employer advisory boards and economic development agencies. This multi-dimensional approach ensures the latest practices and employer defined skill sets are incorporated into student learning outcomes.

Featured K12 District Partners*

Teachers currently participating in professional development programs through the Orange County Department of Education, such as Induction, Career and Technical Education (CTE), Leading Edge Certification, GLAD training, and other programs can earn graduate-level professional development credits for their work.

Oro Grande School District teachers are participating in UMass Global's CTC-approved CTEL authorization course sequence. The district's Riverside Preparatory School partners with UMass Global to provide an online Dual Credit program for their high school students.

Teachers participating in selected San Diego County Office of Education courses can earn credit for Added Authorizations, Preliminary Administrative Credentialing, and professional development courses.

Teachers in the Sacramento County Office of Education participate in UMass Global's early childhood education courses to satisfy the requirements of the county's Quality Rating and Improvement System.

AWARDS

Winner of the Leadership 500 Excellence Awards for outstanding custom leadership development certificate programs for two consecutive years.

Winner of the UPCEA West Engagement Award for workforce innovation information technology certificates.

Winner of the ACHE Creative Use of Technology Award for our competency-based professional learning portfolio for K-12 educators.
